

Meeting Minutes October 28, 2014

Pittsburgh Glass Center, East Liberty, 22 present

The business meeting during the “meet and eat” started at 5:05. Karen Ulrich read a series of quotations about creativity for the inspiration.

Jessie Friedrich introduced her guest, Meghan Hilbert. We also welcomed Sue Morris back to the chapter.

The minutes from the September meeting were approved as printed in the October newsletter.

Peg Maser got a letter returned from Lee Fahrney regarding our invitation to rejoin the chapter. We are looking for Lee’s current address. Peg also reported that she had sent a thank you to Bob Stakeley of the Heinz History Center.

A resignation letter was read from Karen Bordt.

Faith Jack showed forms to invite new members, prospect cards, and cards with a QR code that will take prospective members to the chapter and International websites.

Marg Foster read the Treasurer’s report, which shows a balance of $4186.37 (but that is before the dues are sent in to state and international).

Paulette Hemmings give information about the December meeting at Luciano’s in Cranberry/Mars on Identity Theft.

President Melody Hannegan discussed her needs for Project Chairs.

We all got a form to provide a tip for an Early-Career Educator. They may be brought to the December meeting.

Ruth Wilson discussed volunteers needed for future meetings, for greeters, inspiration, and raffle baskets. Melody discussed ideas for the State basket for the convention (possible themes, where each member would be asked to bring one item that fits the chosen theme) and asked members to send photos or articles or anything that interests them to her for the blog for the chapter Website, which must be certified every two years.

Joys and Concern: Phyllis Jenny got good news about a health problem. Areta Kalogeras would appreciate cards and Facebook notes.

Deb Stackrow presented Barbara MacDonald with her President’s scrapbook for her second biennium. Karen Klingman announced that Sue Phillips will be singing with the Bach Choir in November. Sandy Werderitch’s daughter is being married on November 8.

We sang the Delta Kappa Gamma song to end the business meeting at 5:50.

Karen Ulrich won the raffle basket.

We were then given a tour and demonstration at the Glass Center. Then we made our own sun catchers. They will be baked and then brought to the December meeting for pick-up.

Respectfully submitted,

Karen Ulrich
